THE DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

June 17, 1982

Executive Registry

Dear Mr. McMahon:

Congratulations on your appointment as Deputy Director of Central Intelligence. I look forward to the Intelligence Community's continued cooperation with Treasury, on which we have come to rely.

I also wish to respond to a letter of June 10 from Admiral Inman on the possibility of funding the Treasury Office of Intelligence Support (OIS) from an Intelligence Community appropriation. Foster Collins tells me you are familiar with the background of this proposal.

I am, of course, disappointed that it is not possible to handle the funding in such a way as to leave the positions and their incumbents as Treasury employees. We have been attempting to develop OIS as a part of Treasury, rather than as an outside element. I am afraid it would become known and treated as an office of CIA under your first option.

The alternative option, assigning non-reimbursable detailees to OIS as may be needed, appears to be more practical. We already have several precedents for this, as you know. I also hope you can continue to assist us with equipment to permit Treasury to participate in the Intelligence Community's communications and ADP networks.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

R. T. McNamar

Mr. John N. McMahon
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
CIA Headquarters

Dear Mr. McNamar:

Thank you for your letter of 17 June and your expressions of congratulations and support. I look forward to Treasury's continued cooperation with the Intelligence Community and working with Mr. Doug Mulholland, the new head of the Office of Intelligence Support.

I am pleased to let you know that Treasury/OIS will be among the first in the Intelligence Community to receive a system 4-C terminal, and the anticipated delivery is the third quarter FY 1983. Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.

Look forward to lunch next Friday

Sincerely,
